Official Call for Conference Memories Submissions

Hello WACUHO,

I hope this finds you nicely settled back in after winter break. You'll notice that much of this edition is dedicated to our upcoming 50th Annual Conference in April. It should be an exciting event, and our conference chairs and committee members are working hard to make sure that it's successful. The Spring edition of the WAVES will be published two weeks before our conference, and I would like to ask everyone to think about their first and/or favorite WACUHO conference experience. Who did you meet? What did you do? Where was it at? Please send me your conference memories so we can "celebrate our past" in the WAVES. If you have photos that you'd like to share, send those as well! I look forward to sifting through your stories and publishing them in the Spring.

Best wishes,

Hallie

President's Message

Hello WACUHO!

OK, what happened? I spent a lovely holiday with my family and actually took two weeks off during Winter Break. The next thing I know, it is already mid-January, the 2006/07 budget is looming, a new student staff is being recruited, the Annual Conference is closer than we think, and any and all good-time feelings are a distant memory. Can you say panic?!

Well, not to worry. It's all a spin thing any way. You know, the glass is half full instead of half empty. I get to set new directions with the 2006/07 budget, see the enthusiastic faces of another student staff group, be a part of WACUHO's 50th anniversary conference, and bask in the glow of my past holiday. And honestly that is where I usually am...but we all need those panic days to get ourselves back on track.

So now on to all things WACUHO!

During the fall I got to experience three wonderful RAPs. If you ever need re-energizing, go to a RAP. The energy of our students and staff is always extraordinary, and it is great to see their commitment and care for their positions. It was my first time at California State University, Chico when I attended Northern RAP . . . what a beautiful campus. We were at the University of California, Santa Barbara for Central RAP . . . always a pleasure to visit that seaside campus. And the RAPs wrapped up at Cal Poly Pomona with Southern RAP . . . which is like going home for me because I grew up near there.

But wait, there's more. Next month I finish my RAP experience with a trip to Brigham Young University, Hawaii for Island RAP. (Ah, the sacrifices we president's make)! I look forward to taking this trip and learning about their theme: "Just Stew It: A Recipe for Leadership!" They have an exciting program which includes three different types of stews!

Later in January, the University of Nevada, Reno will be hosting the Western Training Institute. They have a full compliment of participants and a wonderful program. My last WAVES article resulted in a lot of folks emailing me to let me know that while I am no longer young, I am still brash. I look forward to welcoming this year's WTI class and hope that none of the participants call me old.

While some do consider me old, I am not as old as WACUHO! We are celebrating our 50th Annual Conference this spring, and it is developing into quite an event. As you may know, Catie Andalis had to resign her position as Host Chair because she took a new position in Texas. However, Jose Andalis has remained at Menlo College and will join Catie at the end of the year. I am impressed with Jose for not missing a beat – even with all his additional work challenges and now being a single parent. We are fortunate that Augie Galvan has stepped in as Host Chair and is already proving that he is the “Host with the Most!” Augie joins Elizabeth Peterson and Tim Trevan (Program Chairs) and JB Brock (Exhibits Chair). Our Annual Conference Chairs are phenomenal! The Call for Programs has been sent and I hope all will answer with their program proposals. The quality of the conference program rests with you. The Hyatt Regency, San Francisco Airport, is a beautiful hotel site with lots of room. The programming space is free if we meet our room block, so we encourage everyone to stay at the hotel conference site.

I close with letting you know that your Executive Committee will be meeting at the beginning of March in Las Vegas (hosted by the University of Nevada, Las Vegas). Our discussion topics will include committee memberships and executive committee nominations for 2006/07. We are an association of volunteers and we always need folks to step up and serve. I have valued the time I spent on the executive and other committees and don't plan to stop volunteering any time soon. (Unless I am asked to . . . but that has not occurred in the last few years)! Please keep WACUHO strong by signing up for a committee or nominating yourself or someone else for the executive committee.

Okay, so I was all caught up with my mail (both “e” and other) when I began typing this. Now I have 25 new emails and my in-box is full. But, in the spirit of my opening, I am not going to panic. I'm . . . going to lunch! As always please feel free to contact me for anything.

Sharing Our Past...Shaping Our Future

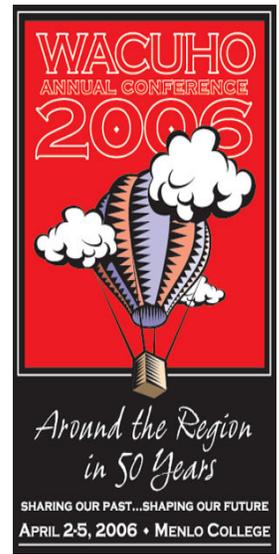

2006. It's hard to believe that it's already here. Many of us are probably still writing 2005 on our checks! 50 years ago, it is doubtful that the founders of CACUHO/WACUHO thought that in 2006 we would be celebrating what they began many years ago.

With the advent of the new year, the 2006 conference planners are in full swing and finalizing information to distribute to you. Hopefully by the time you read this, you will have already seen or received information to assist in your journey to the Hyatt Regency in April. Most of the information you need is (or will be) located on the conference website at www.wacuho.org. The site is constantly being updated, and as more information is confirmed, it will be posted for your use.

We are excited to be hosting this year's conference at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, San Francisco Airport. Its atrium/garden style lobby area has impressed everyone who has seen it. Also impressive is the size of the venue, especially the ballroom which is the largest one of its kind in Northern California. This is certainly a place to "see and be seen" as all of the public areas, including the deli, bar, and restaurants are in or near the lobby and visible from the interior atrium rooms. Just make sure you close your curtains if your room faces the atrium...the Association will be able to see you as well! All guest rooms have undergone a recent "soft upgrade" (i.e beds, linens, etc.). For your convenience, you may make room reservations through the conference website which will ensure that you receive the conference rate. The rate guarantee deadline is March 7th, so mark this on your calendars and keep it in mind as you make your plans.

Your conference chairs are in overdrive and our email boxes are filling up! We hope that you will make the 50th anniversary conference a destination in your spring travels. As you can see below, here are some past conference attendees connecting and socializing with their friends and colleagues (yes, these are actual Association pictures). Hopefully we will see you (and some of these friends below) at this year's conference!!!

Bring On the Annual Conference Program Proposals!

2006 is a special year in WACUHO as we celebrate our 50th Annual Conference which will be hosted by Menlo College. The theme is “Around the Region in 50 Years: Sharing our past...Shaping our future.” We hope to find a balance between remembering all that has come before us — including our beginnings as CACUHO — and looking to our future. As a nod to our past, the program committee is inviting previous winners of the “Best in the West” to rejuvenate their programs to share with the association. We are committed to providing an educational and inspirational experience through our speakers and programs.

In order to allow everyone ample time for creativity, we have extended the Program Proposal deadline to Sunday, February 5, 2006. We hope that you will consider sharing your knowledge with your colleagues by presenting at the conference. Our goal is to provide programs that will meet the needs of all of our members, but we need your help in order to make that goal a reality. Whether you work in residence life, facilities, conference services, academic relations, apartments, or food service, please consider doing a program. We want programs that are for new professionals and programs that challenge those who have been in the field a bit longer. We’re looking for topics that speak to the diversity of our members and encourage an array of programs that will enrich us all. To submit a program, please fill out the program proposal found on the Annual Conference Website at www.wacuh.org.

It’s right around the corner...

If your institution has ever thought of hosting the WACUHO Annual Conference in your own neighborhood, there’s no better time and place than 2008. And just because it’s only 2006, it doesn’t mean that you shouldn’t be thinking about WACUHO 2008! The Time & Place Committee will be sending information out to all institutions located in our northern region with detailed information about submitting a bid and having the opportunity to host our professional membership near your institution in 2008. However, it’s been a while since we’ve had our annual conference in Hawaii or Las Vegas . . . and we don’t want to forget about those member institutions! In the meantime, if you have any questions, please feel free to contact the Time & Place Chair via email (Dana Pysz: danap@orl.ucla.edu). Start thinking now about bringing our housing professionals to a neighborhood near you!

Dear WACUHO Members,

Greetings! On behalf of the Awards and Recognition Committee, I am excited to announce that nominations for the 2006 Charles L. Miller Leadership and Service Award are now being accepted for review. The deadline for submission and recommendations is March 1, 2006. This award is in special recognition of a current member of the Association who has made significant contributions through dedicated service and outstanding leadership to the Western Association of College and University of Housing Officers.

The Charles L. Miller Award is named in memory of Mr. Charles L. Miller, the 30th President of the Association. Throughout his career, Charles L. Miller, better known as "Charlie," exemplified the highest level of dedication to our profession, provided outstanding leadership and role modeling for seasoned veterans and new professionals alike, and was known for his tremendous sense of humor. His death at a young age only served to accentuate the wonderful contributions, accomplishments, and valuable service he gave to our Association. In fond memory and respect to him and his family, this award has been bestowed on those who, like Charlie, have made a difference in our Association as well as in the lives of colleagues and the student population we serve.

"Charlie exemplified the highest level of dedication to our profession, provided outstanding leadership and role modeling for seasoned veterans and new professionals alike, and was known for his tremendous sense of humor."

Following this letter, you will find a nomination form for this prestigious award. The form contains the criteria, postmark dates, and process information. I strongly encourage you and your staff to nominate a colleague who deserves our Association's highest honor. The form will also be available on the WACUHO website at www.wacuho.org.

Updates from the Diversity & Affirmative Action Committee

Greetings and salutations to all. We hope this finds you well and enjoying the prosperity afforded us each day of a new year.

The Diversity and Affirmative Action Committee had two very productive meetings during the Fall, in which we welcomed new members, forged new relationships, exchanged ideas, and put in motion our itinerary for the remainder of the year. However, in order to accomplish our goals, we need your support. In fact, we hope that our two major undertakings will have the complete support of the organization. The first is our drive-in conference, scheduled for March 3, 2006 at UC Santa Barbara. For more information on this event, please go to www.wacuho.org and click on the Diversity and Affirmative Action Conference link. We look forward to seeing you there. Our second (and always one of our most important projects) is the annual awards ceremony in which we recognize a deserving individual and an institution who have demonstrated commitment and dedication to working in or with areas of diversity. Please be on the look out for more information and materials.

We spent considerable time discussing the networking sessions held at the annual conference, and believe we have some creative ways to keep folk engaged and energized.

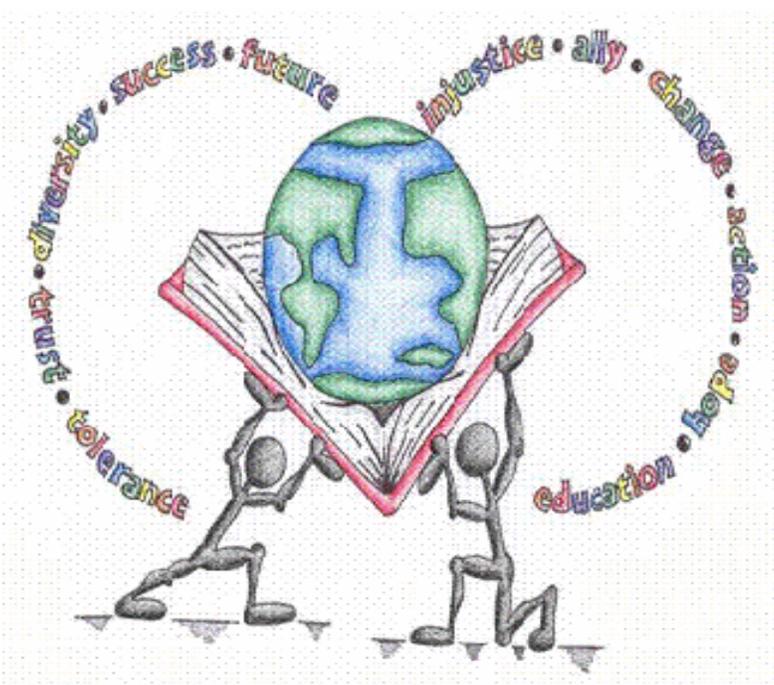

We are still hopeful to have our website up and functional by conference time.

Finally, if you have any suggestions or recommendations you'd like us to consider, please feel free to contact us. Until next time, be well.

Hotep, (peace)

ACUHO-I Foundation

Building
Tomorrow
Today

Housing officers have the unique opportunity to be on the forefront of the major issues in society. The profession must be diligent in updating skills and research to ensure that immediate needs are met, while at the same time, needs of current and future constituencies are anticipated. To this end, the ACUHO-I leadership foresaw the necessity of attracting gifts to help meet the present and future needs of its members and their worldwide constituencies, and to fund special projects of ACUHO-I. The ACUHO-I Research and Educational Foundation was established in 1988 by the ACUHO-I Executive Board to meet this objective.

The purpose of the Foundation is to operate exclusively for charitable and educational purposes in support of the activities of the Association of College and University Housing Officers-International. This support includes fund development for projects, publications, programs, and workshops that will support the philosophies, purposes, and goals of ACUHO-I, and to engage in any lawful act, activity, or business in support of those activities.

The ACUHO-I Foundation would like to thank the following WACUHO members who supported the ACUHO-I Foundation in 2005. If you made a donation in 2005 and are not on this list, please contact Jeanette Bradeen at jeanette.bradeen@ucr.edu, or call (951) 827-6503.

Wrapping-Up Northern RAP

We Nailed It!

The 2005 NRAP Committee

On Saturday, November 5, 2005 more than 550 participants from over 30 schools in the Northern WACUHO region convened at California State University, Chico for the 2005 Northern RAP conference. This year's theme, "Extreme Make-over: NRAP Edition," was reflected in the spirit of not only the participants, but also the 61 program submissions we received. Additionally, Northern RAP made itself over by having its first student keynote speaker, Tiffany Williams from the University of California, Merced.

A big thanks to our student staff participants, their advisors, our conference sponsors, and the WACUHO executive committee. An especially big thanks goes to the Northern RAP 2005 committee (particularly our host committee members, Brandon Farmer and Tiffany Fritz from the CSU Chico campus) for seeing this project through.

If anyone is interested in volunteering to have their campus host the 2006 Northern RAP conference, please send an email to drouрке@sfsu.edu to have your campus considered.

That's a RAP!
